

Commitment to Being Reliable

Congratulations! You have applied for work with the #1 staffing firm in the Denver area. Fusion Staffing is very selective the screening process and does not hire everyone that applies. Fusion Staffing is pleased that you may be a part of the team. At Fusion Staffing we provide a service to our clients requiring our employees to report to work timely every day of the assignment. We take this commitment to our clients very seriously; therefore, it is crucial that you understand and agree to our reliability requirements as explained below.

- I understand that Fusion Staffing will contact me with details of job assignments. I further understand that it is my option to refuse work at any time if I do not feel that the position is right for me.
- I agree that if I choose to accept a position with Fusion Staffing I am giving my commitment to be on time at that assignment every day as scheduled. If an emergency occurs and I can not report as scheduled, I agree to contact Fusion Staffing as far in advance as possible but at a minimum of one hour prior to my start time.
- I further understand that if I do not show up for work or if I walk off of an assignment, Fusion Staffing will reduce my pay to minimum wage and could lead to termination of employment.
- I know that Fusion Staffing's commitment to me consists of rigorously attempting to provide employment at the type of work that I have requested.
- I promise to only accept the assignments that I am committed to reporting to and will refuse those that I am not interested in.
- I have read the rules, regulations, and guidelines outlined in the Fusion Staffing Policies and Procedures Brochure and fully understand and agree to comply with its contents.
